My Juggling Granny

Illustrated by Niloufer Wadia

Written and English Translation by Mala Kumar and Manisha Chaudhry

Grannies come in many sizes,
And they give us funny surprises!
Did you know my granny juggles?
With her, I like to snuggle!

A great spotter of things is she,
She's not one to let things be!
An expert at tossing everything in sight,
People around get quite a fright!

Kitchens, office, the street or the market,
She juggles everywhere and cannot stop it!
It's hard for her to check herself,
No one dares to offer her help!

Umbrellas and glasses go flying in the air,
Spoiltsports now begin to stare!
Juicy mangoes land with a splash,
Grandfather's teeth begin to gnash!

Coloured balls he brings as a gift,
Says, "Toss them all without a twist!"
Granny blushes and feels quite shy,
That she has this lovely gift to try!

Grandfather now sleeps through the night,
Granny juggles till the morning light!
Her shadow dances on the curtain,
She's the best, I am certain!

Dear Reader,

Have you ever seen jugglers
in a circus?

What do they throw in the air?

Do you think it is possible to juggle with items like the ones used by this granny?

Pratham Books was set up in 2004, as part of the Read India movement, a nation-wide campaign to promote reading among children. Pratham Books is a not-for-profit organization that publishes quality books for children in multiple Indian languages. Our mission is to see "a book in every child's hand" and democratize the joy of reading. If you would like to contribute to our mission, please email us at info@prathambooks.org.

Mala Kumar is a journalist, writer and editor who enjoys playing with words, and with children—and likes it best if she is playing with both together.

Manisha Chaudhry is an author, editor and translator. When she needs to rejuvenate, she rushes off to the mountains to trek and to catch up with Urdu poetry.

Niloufer Wadia has been an advertising professional for 20 years who has decided to concentrate on illustrating and painting now. She loves to illustrate and wishes to express herself through this medium.
